The papers in this volume were submitted by George Mason University students and reviewed by members of the GMU linguistics faculty. The Linguistics Club would like to express special appreciation to Steven Weinberger and Charlie Jones for their insights, advice and patience. Without their unfailing support and encouragement these papers may have been written but the task of writing them could never have been so joyful. Any successes we may have in future work in the field of Linguistics belong to this dedicated faculty.

We would like to thank the Student Funding Board for the funding of this project.

The help of Sheryl Sherwin, Szilvia Oszko, and Sarah Simcox in proofreading the papers is also greatly appreciated.
